Consultant & Trainer

Axel Klitscher

Philosophy:

Axel Klitscher helps his customers to develop their personal competencies so that they enjoy even greater success in their work and private lives. He is driven by a desire to show people that they possess considerably greater potential than they are probably aware of – and he represents positive experience outside the personal comfort zone in this respect. If you're looking for somebody to create structures and stubbornly pursue targets, then he's the right sparring partner for you.
